

Once again Max raises his ugly head only to get it taken off point blank. He thinks he is an orator but his bloviations were again an array of pompous phrases across the landscape in search of an idea. He can't get over the wrongs he thinks were committed against him years ago and he again ends up being an embarrassment to the community. Personal attacks, bombastic rhetoric and threats that convince no one of anything.

We went up to the professionals from Prestage after the Council meeting and apologized to them for his behavior which does not represent our community. And again, there are more people for the pork facility than against it so he is blowing smoke for the naysayers once more. He is going to shit his pants when we tell him what is coming to town next.

AGAIN - YOU LOSE!! SHUT UP AND STAY HOME!!
